Antioch support split for GOP chairman

by ROGER RUTHHART
Managing Editor

Donna Mae Litwiler of Ingleside, vice chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, has announced that she will challenge incumbent chairman Bob Neal of Wadsworth for that post at the county convention April 2.

Litwiler said she has been "highly chastised" for considering running against Neal, for fear it will result in a split in the Republican Party.

The county board member and active Republican admittedly has had a tough time getting support in some Republican strongholds in district four, including Antioch Township. "But I have the three other county board members from my district, Jim Fields, Bud Scott and Norm Geary supporting me. Norm said yes the first time I asked, can you believe it?"

Other support is coming from Grant, Cuba, Deerfield, West Deerfield, Ela, and Waukegan Townships as well as Warren, "and I've picked up a little support in Wauconda," Litwiler said.

"Right now I'd say it's neck and neck."

Among her supporters is GeorgeAnne Depke of Gurnee, who openly feuded with Neal last year. Litwiler argues however, that she is not a Depke candidate, admitting "I have to overcome that Depke candidate image. I've known GeorgeAnne for a long time and she's agreed to support me. I'm not her favorite candidate. Lord knows, Bob (Depke) and I fight and I'm not going to shy off from him," said Litwiler.

Litwiler said she has made no promises for the county board chairmanship to gain support. "That decision can't be made until after the November election," she said.

Litwiler said she's running because she sees the county chairman's job as "generating enthusiasm, promoting unity, being energetic and providing an educational program for committeemen.

Of the so-called west Lake County Republican bloc, Litwiler said "why do the Republican candidates come here first when they're running? Because they know if they get support in the west end, it will help in the south. The west end is always strong because we're a family."

Litwiler said that there is a "great lack of communication" between the central committee and the committeemen and a split between the central committee and its fund raising arm, the Republican Federation. Those are splits she'd like to see mended.

"My goal is to have my own energy and enthusiasm rub off on them (committeemen) for the good of the Republican Party," said Litwiler.

Of the March 20 Primary, Litwiler said "it's obvious the Republicans didn't give it their all. There's too much of a laissez faire attitude among committeemen. They need some excitement in their life and I'm that excitement for them."

Litwiler said of Neal that there is a "very obvious loner attitude."

"I don't even think he knows he has been trying to do everything himself," she said.

She also charged that the party hasn't given enough openings to the conservatives of the county, "and I'm not conservative. I'm down the middle of the road Republican.

Wisconsin House holds-off

Looks like no go for drinking bill

by GLORIA DAVIS

Despite the great optimism of Wisconsin State Sen. John Maurer (D-Kenosha) and supporters of his reciprocity drinking bill, it may be a no go for another year.

Reports are that the leadership of Wisconsin's House of Representatives feel that there is little chance for the bill to hit the floor of the house before the present session ends in April.

The Wisconsin Senate has approved the bill, that calls for visitors to Wisconsin to abide by the legal drinking age in the state in which they live.

Supporters of the bill were hoping for it to pass the house in the next couple of weeks. Wisconsin Gov. Anthony Earl has already said he would approve it, so chances of it being enforced along with Wisconsin's drinking age raise to 19 this summer, had been looking good.

Maurer said that he felt that the house leadership could have had the bill on the floor during the present session if they had really wanted to.

So, for the rest of this year at least, Illinois teens will still be driving over the Wisconsin-Illinois border in search of liquor and fun.

This is the second time this year that Wisconsin lawmakers have failed to come up with a solution to the teen drinking-driving border crossing problem.

An effort to raise Wisconsin's legal drinking age back to 21 to match the age in neighboring states failed to pass earlier.

What I'm concerned about is if the candidate is electable. I think of the Republican Party," Litwiler added.

"My challenge to him (Neal) may wake him up and make him realize everyone in the Republican family is not happy with him. He might recognize there are some legitimate concerns out there.

"Lake County used to be a safe Republican bastion. We can't blame all of the growth of the Democrats on people moving out here from Cook County.

"We've let it slide," she charged.

Litwiler believes that more committeemen should be involved in "the process." And in politics, she admits, that's patronage.

"It's a dirty word, but part of any political party and people know its out there so it should involve all of the townships.

"I'm not saying it isn't done now. Bob's been very fair, but every township doesn't know what's going on," said Litwiler.

"I was never a Neal supporter from the beginning. I backed Bill Peterson," Litwiler noted.

Many committeemen don't want her to be chairman because they'd rather see her the county clerk candidate in 1986, something Litwiler says she's not interested in.

"That should be my own choice. Not something forced on me by the committeemen. I feel I'm a good county board member and I aspire to no higher office. If I'm to have a challenge in the future, this is it. I have to go after it or there's no challenge any more.

"I like to be able to pick and choose where I go and what I do. It's not my intent to hurt Bob Neal politically. He's a very good county board member. But they should have nothing to do with each other. Bob has trouble differentiating between each other.

One of her most vocal opponents, said Litwiler, is State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis. "She's all upset. She's absolutely having a spaz over this. I told her it's between Bob and I," said Litwiler.

"Maybe I'll have to bring the sheriff in if she doesn't lay off," she added.

"I believe that if I feel this strongly about the Republican Party, I might as well have the title," she added.

dividual in the grand prize drawing for the trips and the bike. Tickets are available at the First National Bank, State Bank, Great American Federal Savings and Loan, Lyons and Ryan Ford, Chain of Lakes Bait and Tackle, and the Windjammer.

Crane receives award

Twelfth District Congressman Philip M. Crane was presented with the 1984 Leadership Award from the United States Congressional Advisory Board of the Coalition for Peace Through Strength. The award was in recognition of the leading role he has taken on a variety of national security issues before Congress.

In making the presentation, ASC Foundation President John M. Fisher said, "Congressman Crane has always been in the forefront of those Members of Congress who know that a strong America is a secure America; who know that weakness only invites aggression; and who know that only a national strategy of Peace Through Strength will insure this nation's security."

Seek accord on conflict over drunk boating law

by ROGER RUTHHART
Managing Editor

Following a meeting of concerned tavern and marina owners in the Fox Lake area, an agreement has been worked out which will allow them input into development of an ordinance to combat drunk drivers on the Chain O' Lakes.

Lake County Sheriff Robert (Mickey) Babcox said that Sgt. Tom Gardner had met with tavern owners prior to their March 26 meeting. Representatives of those concerned about the proposed legislation appeared at Tuesday's County Board Law and Judicial Committee meeting.

Babcox said that as a result of that meeting, he would be meeting with local representatives and Asst. State's Atty. Henry Caldwell to go over the proposed ordinance, "and give the marina owners, resort owners and boating people a chance to get input into the ordinance."

"We want to get an ordinance that everyone could be happy with," Babcox added.

Babcox had introduced an ordinance which would allow sheriff's deputies on the boat patrol to administer breathalyzer tests to boat drivers suspected of being under the influence of alcohol.

There are currently no state laws in Illinois allowing patrols to administer tests to drunken boat drivers. The ordinance is similar to Illinois highway drunk driving laws where if a driver refuses to take the test the driver's privileges to operate a boat could be revoked for up to a year.

Babcox noted that boating is still a recreational sport and the proposed ordinance does not prohibit alcohol on boats. The law would simply require that boat drivers not drink excessively while driving.

It would apply to the Lake Michigan shoreline as well as the Chain O' Lakes.

"I think we all agree that we need to do something," said Babcox. "I understand that boating is a recreational sport and I don't expect someone to go fishing without a couple of six-packs. What I want is to take the abusers off the water; those that show disregard for the safety of others," said the sheriff.

Babcox said that he viewed working with the local marina and tavern representatives as "a positive step. I don't see anything wrong at all and I think we'll get an ordinance that everyone can be happy with that we can go back to the board with," he added.

District Four County Board Member Donna Mae Litwiler, who's from Grant Township, said "I don't understand the big hassle."

"I probably won't be a friend of the resort and tavern owners after I make my speech, but as elected officials we have to pick and choose our priorities. The first priority of any elected official is the health, safety and welfare of the people and that is what this legislation is designed to protect," said Litwiler.

Babcox said he didn't expect the proposed ordinance to come up before the board again until the May meeting.

'Bus Stop' shows range of human personality

by COLLEEN DEVRIES

"Bus Stop," presented by PM&L Theater, provides the audience with a look into a range of human personalities from the unabashed innocence of the high-school aged Elma Duckworth to the not-so-innocent Dr. Gerald Lyman, PhD.

The story centers around a group of travellers stranded in a Kansas cafe during a snowstorm.

Probably the best performance given in the play is that by Lou Jones as the drunken Dr. Lyman. Lyman, for all his drinking, is a veritable fountain of lines from poetry and Shakespeare. And Jones is cast wonderfully in the role.

He staggers just the right amount, runs into things in just the right way, gestures with the exaggerated motions of someone who has

When I think about it

No more mom, apple pie, or Girl Scout cookies?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Anyone who has read the headlines lately has to be aware that there is a greater variety of "nuts" floating around this world than is offered by Planters.

Although I've never really gotten used to the new locked door, stay off the streets at night, America we're living in, I can cope with the stifled feeling for safety's sake.

I thought we had hit an all time low several years ago when the "crazies" started tampering with one of childhood's favorite things by slipping razor blades, poison, and needles into the children's Halloween treats.

Halloween was one of the few celebrations that was almost strictly for kids. Now, and understandably so, trick or treating as it used to be, has just about disappeared.

Parent's are afraid to set their kids loose for the old-time Halloween fun, even in a small town, for fear that one of those perverted souls might live nearby.

So, outlying escorting the kids around the block or being allowed to go to the area school, play a few games and get a little candy, Halloween has gone bye-bye.

Running through backyards in the dark and playing harmless tricks like putting logs behind the wheels of parked cars, soaping windows and carrying a garbage can to a neighbor's yard, scared to death you were going to get caught, was what it was all about when times were simpler.

And now the sanctity of the Scout system has been invaded. Some lower than low person or persons are tampering with Girl Scout Cookies.

If one has any illusions left, now that "Mom" is seldom at home and most apple pies come from the frozen food department, this bit of insanity has probably left all vestiges of them in complete ruin.

With the media coverage adding to the hysteria, cookies are being delivered, recovered, run through metal detectors and x-ray machines before they are redelivered.

Just when it was thought that the problem was solved, reports came in that someone has found ground glass in the cookies. It is my understanding that glass cannot be detected by x-rays or a metal detectors.

So, as in the Tylenol scare, the risk may be minimal but it does exist.

I don't know about you, but the power of suggestion has great command over my stomach's cravings. No way could I swallow a Girl Scout Cookie now unless it was left over from last year.

Ever since eight people died from eating home-canned green beans in "East of Eden," not one of those bits of homemaking has past my lips.

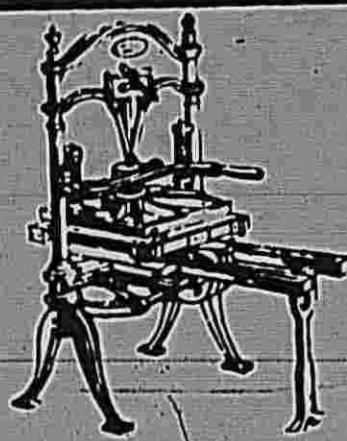

I know that whole thing is dumb, but tell my closing throat that. Even if the chances of such a thing happening today are almost nil, zero is the only number that I find acceptable.

Already the reported 25 cents profit per box made by the Scouts must have been seriously dented by the cost of delivery, recovery and redelivery, not to mention the testing procedures and extra time involved.

Rather than carry this thing any further, might I suggest that all the uneaten cookies be destroyed. Better wasted cookies than one wasted life!

Most people bought the cookies just to donate to the Scouts anyway. I think the same people would make the donation this and in coming years without the cookies. Few of us need those extra calories anyhow.

Sad to say, something as wholesome as the sale of Girl Scout Cookies may have bitten the dust to be added to memory's file of the "nice" things that used to be.

Profile on St. Peters candidates

The election of St. Peter School Board members will take place after all the Masses on Sunday, April 15, and after the 5:30 p.m. Mass on April 14. All registered parishioners of St. Peter Parish are eligible to vote and should vote with sincere conscience for the spiritual advancement of the parish, part of which is the parish school.

Four people are seeking a position on the St. Peter Board of Education. There are two, three year positions open. The biographies/views of these candidates appear below in the order that petitions were filed.

THOMAS G. SHAUGHNESSY attended Campion Jesuit High School in Prairie du Chien, where he participated for four years in football, baseball, student council and R.O.T.C. He acted as class representative, as well.

Upon graduating he entered Creighton University earning a bachelor of science degree in business administration. Extracurricular activities included intramural sports, vice president of Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity, president of the freshman class and member of the student council.

Shaughnessy, his wife, Kathy, and their four children have been Antioch residents for the past eight years. He has been active in community volunteer programs, including three years with cub scouts working on fund raisers and acting as an assistant Webelos Leader.

He has coached iceless hockey, Little League and Viking Football. He is a member of St. Peter Athletic Committee and was an organizer of St. Peter's "Footlights" breakfast room.

Shaughnessy believes that "through communication and cooperation among parents, teachers and the entire school community, our children will receive a spiritual, moral and academic education that will serve to guide them through their formative years. This education will lay the foundation for a responsible, productive adulthood."

BRUCE L. PAGNI, his wife, Joan, and their two daughters have been parishioners since 1971. He teaches English and speech at Waukegan West High School.

A graduate from the University of Illinois, he holds both a bachelor of arts and master of arts degree. Pagni has been involved at St. Peter's as a lector-commentator, CCD teacher and was one of the original co-chairpersons for "Footlights '82, '83," and the coming '84 show.

He states: "The board of education needs to be a 'sounding board' of community reaction and concern regarding the programs and policies of St. Peter School. Most importantly, the board needs to be supportive of the teachers and administrators who are most aware of the educational needs of the children."

"I will work to encourage programs that emphasize basic skills and religious and moral values in a creative and interesting way. Students have a right to educational opportunities that challenge them to use their creative potentials. Programs such as these will adequately prepare our students for higher learning and insure their future success," he added.

THOMAS G. FISHER lives in Antioch with his wife, Connie, and their four children.

He graduated from Waukegan High School. He is a graduate of the Illinois Police Academy and has attended numerous other police and law enforcement schools.

Fisher is employed by the Village of Antioch as a lieutenant on the police force (since 1976). He is also the acting juvenile officer. Prior experience includes seven years as a police officer for the City of North Chicago. He served four years with the U.S. Air Force, including a one year tour of duty in the Viet Nam conflict.

He was elected to the North Chicago Elementary Dist. 64 Board of Education in 1975. In 1980 he was the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award for leadership in public service by the Antioch Jaycees.

He is currently a member of the Antioch Police Assn., the Antioch Moose Lodge, the Oakwood Knolls Home Owners Assn. and vice-president of the Antioch Little League.

drunk too much and when he sits down, we have no doubt he's not quite sure if the chair is where he thinks it is.

We are left with the impression that the man on the stage is feeling his liquor. While drunkenness is not a good state to be in, Jones renders a delightful performance.

Also giving good performances are Christie Hubbard as Elma Duckworth and Lorraine Lorr Ferguson as Grace Hoyland.

Grace runs the local cafe where the cross-country bus makes it layover in nasty weather. Her husband has left her and she sometimes gets lonely.

On the other hand, Elma, Grace's helper at the cafe, is an innocent high school girl who thinks that because someone wants to "make love" to another person, they must be in love.

She's unaware of the reason for Lyman's unwillingness to share with others the news of a rendezvous in Topeka.

Also playing a young woman is Donna O'Donnell as Cherie, who is being carried off to Montana. With Elma, she is able to recapture the youth she lost when she had to quit school and take care of the family at a young age. O'Donnell gives a convincing performance.

Mark Heller stomps around, shouting on the stage as the lovestruck cowboy Bo Decker who is dragging his intended, whether she intends to or not, back to Montana. He's convincing as the loud blusterer covering up his inexperience, but he also knows when to quiet down for pronouncements at the end.

Virgil Blessing, played by Tim Holt, is Bo's father figure. Virg has raised Bo since the boy was 10 and has always been there for Bo.

Larry Bersie, as Sheriff Will Masters, seems unsure of his lines at the beginning, but picks up as the play progresses.

All in all, the play and its characters provide us with a range of human personalities and ways of dealing with life. The actors, for the most part, convince us that they are the characters they perform.

One complaint heard was the speaking on stage was too soft by some of the actors but that after a bit the situation improved.

Remaining performances are Fridays and Saturdays, April 6, 7, 13 and 14 at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 8 at 2:30 p.m. Admission is $4, with discounts for students and senior citizens.

Dinner theater packages are available at the Village Pub (312) 395-3373 and at Struggles Restaurant (312) 395-9400, both in Antioch.

The theater is located at 877 Main St. in downtown Antioch. For reservations and information, call (312) 395-3055.

BUSING AROUND — Carl the busdriver, played by Paul Beemsterboer, left, is beginning to warm up to Grace, diner owner, played by Lorraine Ferguson, Antioch, in scene from "Bus Stop," which opened at PM&L Theater on Friday, March 30. Play can also be seen at 8:30 p.m., on April 6, 7, 13 and 14, with Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m., on April 8.

Pork can beat barbeque blahs

Burgers and hot dogs, burgers and hot dogs, and more burgers and hot dogs. With the outdoor-cooking season drawing to a close, many families are wondering if there's life after burgers and hot dogs.

Fresh pork is a tasty, versatile alternative that is usually less expensive than steak, according to Linda Kuhn, Lake County Extension adviser.

"Pork is easy to cook and serve outdoors, and it can be used in so many different ways," Kuhn said. "Almost any cut of pork can be satisfactorily cooked on the grill. Although chops and ribs are the most popular cuts for outdoor cooking, blade steaks, pork cubes, sausages and ground pork can taste every bit as good, hot off the grill."

Low-to-moderate temperatures are best for cooking meat, both outdoors and in the kitchen. Outdoors, cooking should begin over glowing hot—not flaming—coals.

Heat can be intensified by the wind, so Kuhn advises placing the grill in a sheltered location.

She also recommends using a meat thermometer as a guide for doneness for roasts. Insert the thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part of the cut and not resting in fat, on the rotisserie rod or on bone. If the meat is being cooked on a rotisserie, be sure the thermometer will clear the cooking unit and drip pan as the meat turns.

The thermometer should register 170 degrees Fahrenheit for fresh pork roasts, 160 degrees for uncooked hams and 140 degrees for fully cooked ham.

Cooking time will vary depending on many factors, including the cut of meat and the correct degree of doneness.

The cooking rules are slightly different for rotisserie cooking, Kuhn said. The fire should be started with a small amount of charcoal, but more should be added during cooking. A drip pan, which can be made from heavy-duty aluminum foil, should be placed under the meat and adjusted to catch the juices as the meat turns.

Meat cubes should be placed on a rotisserie rod with other foods cut to the same size. Foods that will not cook as quickly as the meat should be parboiled or partially precooked before added to the rod with the meat.

Here are some "porkcue" recipes, provided by the National Livestock and Meat Board:

Rotisserie Pork Loin Roast-Jubilee

5 to 6 pound boneless pork loin roast (double)
1 can (21 ounces) cherry pie filling
1/4 cup brandy
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/8 teaspoon salt

Insert rotisserie rod lengthwise through exact center of roast. Insert spit forks and tighten so roast turns with rod. Insert roast meat thermometer (at an angle, so it will clear cooking unit and drip pan) so the tip is centered in the roast and does not rest in fat or on the rod. Place on rotisserie and roast at low to moderate temperature until well done (170 degrees F.) Allow 2 to 2 1/2 hours total cooking time.

To prepare brandy sauce, combine cherry pie filling, brandy, water, lemon juice and salt in small saucepan. Bring to boil and cook slowly 5 to 6 minutes, stirring occasionally. Brush roast with sauce during last 20 minutes of cooking time.

Aloha Ham Loaves

2 pounds ground smoked ham
6 slices canned pineapple
6 1/2 inch squares pimiento
1 can (5 1/2 ounces) evaporated milk
1/2 tsp. curry powder
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup cr. unsalted crackers
2 tablespoons catsup
1 tablespoon snipped parsley

Place a pineapple slice in the bottom of each of six aluminum tart pans. Fill center of each pineapple slice with a square of pimiento. Mix 2 tablespoons evaporated milk with curry powder and sprinkle 1 teaspoon of the liquid over each pineapple slice. Add remaining evaporated milk to instant onion. Lightly but thoroughly combine ground ham, egg, cracker crumbs, catsup and parsley; mix in evaporated milk with onion.

Divide meat mixture in sixths and place one portion on pineapple ring in each pan, pressing lightly to mound. Cover each pan tightly with aluminum foil, securing around rim of pan. Place on grill and cook at low to moderate temperature 45 to 55 minutes or until done. Invert pans to remove loaves and serve pineapple side up. 6 servings.

Porkabobs Italiane

2 pounds boneless pork shoulder
8 ounces Italian-style salad dressing
Cubed zucchini

Cut pork into 1 to 1 1/2 inch cubes. Marinate in 1 bottle (8 ounces) Italian-style dressing in refrigerator 4 hours overnight. Alternately thread pork cubes and pieces of zucchini on metal skewer.

Brush with marinade and place on grill 5 to 7 inches from heat. Broil at low-to-moderate temperature, brushing with marinade and turning occasionally for 25 to 30 minutes or until well done. 6 servings.

Sequoit diamondmen split opening twinbill

Antioch's varsity baseball team made good use of its first time out on the field as the Sequoits split with visiting Woodstock in non-conference action March 31.

The Sequoits, behind a strong relief pitching performance by Frank Mahar, defeated the Blue Streaks 6-4 in the opener, while losing the second game 8-4.

Frank Mahar came on in relief to get the pitching win as he struck out 11 of 18 batters he faced during four innings of work.

John Humphreys, Antioch's number one pitcher, went the first three innings giving up two runs.

The fifth inning was the biggest for the Sequoits as they scored three runs to tie the score at 4-4.

Tim Kube singled to start the inning off, with Joel Bissing reaching base on a fielder's choice.

Humphreys walked with Craig Prather doubling to knock in one run.

John Mahar followed up with a run producing base hit which scored Prather and Humphreys.

In the game winning sixth inning, Andy Lehn had a leadoff double with John Perez following with a base on balls.

A double steal moved the runners to second and third, respectively, with Chuck Clark walking to fill the bases.

Bissing singled to score one run with Humphreys singling to score a second insurance run.

For the game, Bissing had two singles with Humphreys two for two, both singles. Prather and Lehn each had a double.

"It was nice to get the ball games in and get some of the kinks out," Tom Baba, Antioch head coach, said.

In the second game, Antioch scored all of its runs in the fifth inning.

Mike Dydo had a leadoff single with Brian Parkhurst receiving a walk.

One out later, Bissing walked to fill the bases.

Humphreys hit into a fielder's choice with Dydo out at the plate.

Prather followed with a walk which scored one run and John Mahar singled to knock in two runs.

"We played everybody and that's exactly what our objective was," Baba said.

"We got ourselves squared away," he continued. "I was glad everything worked out."

Baba admitted that pitching is, and will be for a while, a question mark for the Sequoits.

Humphreys is expected to be the anchor of the Sequoit staff, with six others shooting for two additional starting slots.

Antioch is scheduled to open North Suburban Conference (NSC) competition in Gurnee on Tuesday, April 3, against Warren.

NSC play continues for the Sequoits on Thursday, April 5, when they host Zion-Benton.

A non-conference doubleheader is scheduled at McHenry on Saturday, April 7, with Carmel coming to Antioch on Monday, April 9.

Ever since

I was in high school, I have had chronic indigestion when I go to bed. I started the Herbalife program two and a half weeks ago and have not had indigestion in a week and a half. What amazes me most, though, is that in the past four days, my legs have ached at night, but not at all during the day. I didn't expect that. I feel great and my energy level has gone up. I'm sold on Herbalife — it is so easy and yet so effective.

TRENCH MOUTH?

Q. What is the cause of trench mouth?

A. We know that trench mouth, also known as acute necrotizing ulcerative gingivitis or Vincent's disease, is caused by certain invading bacteria. When a person's resistance to disease becomes abnormally low from illness or undue stress or a combination of both, then his/her biochemical changes permit those particular microorganisms to invade and take over.

Although long considered contagious, in reality the disease is not. Even kissing someone with trench mouth will not spread the disease. It is particularly common among groups of young adults such as college students living in dormitories, and was widespread with World War I soldiers, which explains the name "trench mouth." As early as the 4th Century, acute necrotizing ulcerative gingivitis was recognized by Xenophon, who recorded sore mouths and accompanying unpleasant breath among Greek soldiers.

Wilmot abounds in 1984 firsts

This is the year for firsts at Wilmot High. The basketball team was first in the state and brought the school its first state championship. The band brought in Maynard Ferguson for Wilmot's first professional concert. And this weekend, the school will present the premiere performance of an original musical comedy, "The Quality of Mercy."

Wilmot is first in athletics and in the performing arts. The play was written by Wilmot's drama director, Tom Hausman, Antioch, and band director, Lance Haas.

The theme of the show is to learn who you are and to be yourself. Only then can a person find happiness and success. The show has a lot of delightful tunes that are sure to please audiences of all ages and tastes.

The humor is universal and sure to make the audiences smile and laugh. Many of the cast members recently received first place ratings in Class A and Class B in the state music contests.

This should assure audiences that they will hear the finest group of young singers to ever grace the Wilmot High School stage.

Another first is the new stage curtains that will be used for the first time with this play. The bright red front drapes are as intense as is the acting of the talented cast that they will reveal.

Many win prizes at Home Improvement Fair

Over 1,000 visitors found new ideas and new products at the State Bank of Antioch Second Annual Home Improvement Fair on March 23 and 24.

"This year's fair was expanded to two floors of the bank," said President Andy Bernhardt, "because of a number of local builders, remodelers, suppliers, equipment dealers and landscape specialists that we added this year."

Wally Jaskowski, bank vice president, attributed the success of the two-day event to the immediate availability of information on home improvement projects, cost estimates, bank financing, and the fine reputation of participating exhibitors.

State Bank lending personnel were available during the hours of the fair to review financing information and convenient repayment options.

"FHA Guaranteed loans, home equity loans, and conventional loans," said Jaskowski, "are ways in which consumers can make improvements to their home, add a room, a roof or garage. We encourage them to bring in their plans and cost estimates and we'll do the rest."

In addition to utility representatives who provided assistance with energy-saving ideas, the Lake County Building & Zoning Department gave information on how and where to obtain necessary building permits.

Bill Mingotti, executive vice president, offered, "if we have been able to successfully bring together local residents and business people, we'll consider our fair another success story, thanks in part to Mother Nature, who reserved two days of spring-like weather for the occasion.

The three top door prize winners in the Home Improvement Fair drawing were: $500-first place, Linda Boerman, Antioch; $300-second place, Kathy Huber, Northbrook; $200-third prize, Beverly J. Kull, Antioch.

Lake Villa is site for CPR class

A cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class will be offered as a public service at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Route 59 in Lake Villa, Saturday, April 14, from 10 to 4 p.m., in the community room.

Registration fee is $2 and must be paid no later than Friday, April 6. Call (312) 578-2702 for more information. Class will be limited to 20 participants.

The class will be taught by instructors certified by the American Heart Assn. This public service education program is sponsored by St. Therese Hospital and the Northern Illinois Emergency Physicians (NIEP) who staff the hospital's emergency room in Waukegan and the emergency satellite in Lake Villa.

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation is a life-saving procedure which can be performed by an individual to provide artificial breathing and circulation of blood for a person whose own breathing mechanism and heart have stopped. Not only is CPR effective for victims of heart attack, but it is a life-saving technique for victims of drowning, suffocation, smoke inhalation, poisoning, electrocution and drug overdose.

Waste Advisory Group to seek public input

The Lake County Solid Waste Advisory Committee (SWAC) is holding six public meetings to receive input on preparation of a county-wide solid waste plan. The meetings are scheduled for April 9 through 18.

Committee members and staff will present information on finance and ownership issues, siting procedures, and plan implementation. This is the last opportunity for the public to be involved before the SWAC prepares a draft plan.

A plan document, which includes all of the SWAC's findings and recommendations, will be released the end of May. The advisory committee will hold public hearings throughout the county in June.

The purpose of the hearings is to receive public comment on the recommendations. The solid waste plan, including specific steps for implementation, will be presented to the Lake County Board at its August meeting.

The following public meetings are scheduled. You are encouraged to attend one in your area. For information call Scott Ziegler at (312) 689-6350.

Getting Married?

Getting married? Lakeland Newspapers publishes wedding and engagement announcements free of charge. Forms for your convenience in making these important announcements are available by calling 223-8161 or by stopping at any Lakeland Newspaper office. Photographs cannot be returned. Deadline for wedding and engagement announcements is 4:30 p.m. the Friday prior to publication. Those received by Friday usually will appear in the following issue, but may, at times, be delayed for one week. Announcements which appear months after a wedding usually are the result of lengthy waits for photographs from your wedding photographer. Lakeland Newspapers suggests that arrangements be made to have black and white photos made up immediately after the wedding for the newspaper. It is advisable to have the wedding form filled out prior to the wedding for the newspaper.

Gov. duPont to keynote Republican fund raiser

Republican Governor Pierre S. du Pont IV of Delaware will be the keynote speaker at the 1984 Campaign Dinner of the Lake County Republican Federation Friday, May 11 at the Mundelein Holiday Inn.

The dinner is 7:30 p.m., following a reception at the inn.

Federation President Ned Fisher of Waukegan said Gov. du Pont will attract a record attendance of area Republicans, because "he is one of Delaware's most popular and respected political leaders and a strong force for the Republican Party nationally."

The dinner chairman will be Henry W. Meers of Lake Forest, managing director of Merrill Lynch Capital Markets. Meers was elected a delegate from the 10th Congressional District to the Republican National Convention in the March 20 election.

du Pont's political philosophy is in tune with Republican thinking in Lake County said David Amory, Federation vice president. In a letter to Amory recently, du Pont wrote, "If our party is to be successful in the battle to reduce government waste, increase job opportunities and limit taxes on personal income and homes, then we must have sound and strong leadership at the local level."

Now in his second term as governor, du Pont started in politics in 1964 as a worker for Barry Goldwater, the Republican Presidential nominee. du Pont decided to run for elective office in 1968, and was elected to the House of Representatives of the Delaware General Assembly.

du Pont in 1970 moved on to election as Delaware's lone Congressman. He served three consecutive terms and was active on the Foreign Affairs Committee. He also won the "Watchdog of the Treasury Award."

Delawareans responded enthusiastically when, in 1974, du Pont kicked off his Congressional reelection campaign by announcing that he would not accept campaign contributions of more than $100 from any individual contributor. He also refused to accept any money from political action committees. Time magazine in 1975 called him one of America's "200 Faces of the Future."

In his successful race for governor in 1976, du Pont had 57 per cent of the vote, and 71 per cent when reelected. He is credited with restoring financial integrity to state government through modern budgetary procedures, eliminating short-term borrowing and reducing spending. He signed into law an income tax reduction measure, a first in Delaware, and a constitutional amendment that restrains future tax increases.

A strong supporter of President Reagan, du Pont has served on the President's Tax Force on Private Sector Initiatives, and the President's Advisory Committee on Federalism. He is currently chairman of the Education Commission of the United States, which develops recommendations on all facets of American education.

Becoming more active in national Republican Party activities in the 1970's, du Pont organized GOPAC, a political action committee that assists Republican challengers for Democrat-held seats in state legislatures. GOPAC has provided assistance to more than 600 candidates since 1979.

Pete du Pont, as he refers to himself, was born in Wilmington, Del., in 1935. He is a graduate of Princeton University and Harvard University, where he received a law degree. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1957 to 1960. He and his wife, Elise, have a daughter and three sons.

Dinner chairman Meers said that patron and dinner tickets will be available for $150 and $40 from Federation board members, Republican club and organization presidents, patron and dinner ticket sales committees and Republican Headquarters, 128 N. Genesee St., Waukegan. Meers added that the Cabaret band will play for dinner dancing.

Plan fish sale

Bluegill, Hybrid Sunfish, and Channel Catfish may be purchased from the Soil and Water Conservation District on May 5 at the Lake County fairgrounds.

Orders must be received by the district on or before April 25.

This is an excellent opportunity for people and groups that need large numbers of fish for their ponds or lakes to buy fingerlings in bulk.

BLUEGILL come in two sizes, 1 to 3 inches, and 4 to 6 inches. It is an extremely popular pan fish. Stocking rates are typically 750-1,000 fish per acre.

Hybrid Sunfish come in one size, 1 to 3 inches. It tends to grow faster than either its male Bluegill and female Green Sunfish parents, is more aggressive than either parent, and does not successfully reproduce, thereby reducing the chances of overpopulation.

The "catch-out" rate for Hybrid Sunfish is very high. Hybrid Sunfish should be stocked at a rate of 500 per acre if they are fed, and 250 per acre if they are not fed artificially.

This is excellent companion to the Channel Catfish if both are artificially fed.

CHANNEL Catfish are popular sport and food fish that do not "muddy" a pond as do Carp or Bullheads. They feed on a wide variety of food. Stocking rates are 100 per acre if the fingerlings are not fed and 250 per acre if they are artificially fed.

People may obtain an order form by calling (312) 223-1056. The form and a check should be mailed to the Soil and Water Conservation District, 33040 North Rte. 45, Suite 205, Grayslake, 60030. Further information can be obtained by calling (312) 223-1056.

Fish will be bagged with oxygen for safe transfer in car or truck. Buyers will pick up the fish at the Lake County fairground on Saturday, May 5.

A second sale of Largemouth Bass (one to three inches) and Hybrid Sunfish (three to five inches) will be held by the District in early June, depending on weather and fish feeding conditions.
